Press Release

Anthony Carlo Promoted to Website Product Marketer

Freeport, New York., January 10, 2010

Access Display Group, Inc., a leading designer and manufacturer of wall mount and free-standing changeable poster display frames, sign fixtures and display cases for visual merchandising and display applications promoted Anthony Carlo to Senior Website Product Marketer.

Anthony had joined the company in September 2007 as a part time employee while he was attending college and working towards a degree in design. During that time he worked on all aspects of our company websites including their design. He was also responsible for photography of our products and re-touching product photos for our websites.

"Anthony's design skills have developed nicely over the past two years with a complete understanding of how the backend of our websites function. He has worked hard to develop an efficient and accurate system for adding new products to our websites. We need a person with Anthony's creative eye and design knowledge to keep our websites fresh and contemporary states Brian McAuley, IT / Website Design Director for Access Display Group, Inc. As the company continues to develop more websites, we see Anthony's experience to be of great value in training future product marketers within the company.

Access Display Group, Inc. has four websites functioning including Swingframe.com, Access Display Group, Inc.'s manufacturing division website and three E-Commerce properties: Displays4Sale.com, SwingPanels.com and FloorStands.com. Several other websites are planned for 2010.

Anthony is a Graduate of SBI-Campus (Sanford Brown Institute, Melville, NY) with a degree in Graphic Design and SVA (School of Visual Arts, New York, NY) with a degree in Photography.
